The Many Faces of Newton: Our Students Speak Out About Race and Racism

Wednesday,
January 24,
7:00 pm:
Believe it or not, racism exists in Newton! In 2017 a group of high school Students of Color performed original theatre pieces they had written as part of The Monologue Project. Join them for an eye-opening experience as they take to the stage to speak out about their experiences of race and racism in our city. A Q and A moderated by Beau Stubblefield-Tave of the Center for Culturally Fluent Leadership will follow. Refreshments will be served. Cosponsors include:

- Center for Culturally Fluent Leadership
- Cooperative Metropolitan Ministries
- First Unitarian Universalist Society in Newton
- Newton Department of Senior Services
- Newton Health and Human Services/Youth Services
- Newton Human Rights Commission
- Newton Theatre Company

This program is supported by a grant from the Foundation for Racial, Ethnic and Religious Harmony.

Songs of Resistance

Tuesday, January 30, 7:00 pm: Now more than ever music celebrating resistance can be a driving force for change. Join us for an inspiring performance of political and protest songs, serious and satirical, from the 1950s to the present day. Featured songwriters will include Bob Dylan, Phil Ochs, Woody Guthrie and many more. The performers will be:

- Ian Goldstein, mandolin, guitar, bass, vocals
- Paul D. Lehrman, guitar, bass, piano, electronics, vocals
- Jeffrey A. Summit, banjo, bass, vocals
- Beth Bahia Cohen, violin, tambura
- Michael McLaughlin, accordion
- Sharon Kennedy, vocals
- Adina Schecter, vocals
- Other Special Guests

Five Myths about North Korea

Tuesday,
January 16,
7:00 pm: Can we live with a nuclear North Korea? Join Sung-Yoon Lee, Kim Koo-Korea Foundation Professor of Korean Studies and Assistant Professor at The Fletcher School, Tufts University for a compelling presentation on North Korea. In 2017 North Korea reached several menacing milestones including the nation's most powerful nuclear test to date and successful intercontinental ballistic missile tests. While the U.S. and its allies have vacillated for 25 years between indecisive diplomacy and half-hearted sanctions, Pyongyang's nuclear and missile threat capability has grown markedly. How much longer can the status quo hold?

Dr. Lee has testified as an expert witness in congressional hearings and advised senior officials, including the President of the U.S.

The library will be closed:

- Monday, January 1 for New Year's Day
- Monday, January 15 for MLK Day

Art Exhibits: January 2-30

Gallery: A Little Local Color by Joanne Bergen

Reception: Wednesday, January 10, 7:00 pm

By: J. Bergen

Joanne Bergen's goal as an artist is to provide images that bring joy. Her work reflects the influences Edward Hopper, David Hockney and Fairfield Porter. A trained textile and graphic artist, she brings her love of saturated color and bold forms to her paintings. Local rural scenes and images from travels are the subjects of her work. She believes that art can speak to a part of the psyche not accessed by words, which in turn feeds the soul.

Ms. Bergen is a graduate of Rhode Island School of Design. Visit: joannebergen.com.

Main Hall: Small Works by Michael William

By: M. William

Michael Williams's intentions for this series are to paint on a small scale, to spend only a few days on each piece and to choose subjects that are simple. He views these exercises as genuine expressions of the pleasure of seeing, and consciously tries to focus on the innate beauty of the subject. These works represent placeholders for the stray observations and in-between moments throughout the artist's past.

The collection gives him a sense of peace and perspective on his life.

A graduate of Montserrat College of Art, Michael William has exhibited his work in numerous venues around the Boston area.

Teen Gallery: North and South, Newton High Schools Student Showcase

By: J. Champion

The show features photographs on the gallery walls and ceramics in the free-standing display cases with representation from both Newton North (NNHS) and Newton South (NSHS) high schools. The library wishes to extend its gratitude to Eric Blomster of Abraxis Framing Co. in Newton, who generously provided the frames cost-free. On view through spring 2018.
