Intro to Cybersecurity and Privacy

Monday, June 26, 7:00 pm: Almost everything we do today uses or relies on internet connectivity - from buying products to driving cars to properly functioning critical infrastructure. Securing these connections and systems is an ongoing battle with cybercriminals, hackers and state actors. In this session we will:

- Review basic concepts in cyber security
- See examples of the cat and mouse game between blackhat hackers and whitehat security researchers
- Learn about different tools and techniques used by commercial (and state) entities that try to infringe upon our privacy
- Discuss the ongoing struggle between counterterrorism and citizens' privacy

Presenter Etay Maor is an executive security advisor at IBM Security where he leads security and fraud fighting awareness and research. A security evangelist, Etay regularly presents at industry events and academic master classes. He also volunteers for educational security awareness programs.

Cosponsored by the City of Newton Department of Senior Services.

You and Your Financial Future Series

Tuesday, June 6, 7:00 pm: Are you on track to achieve your financial goals now and throughout your life? Join our expert panelists at the final installment of this year's You and Your Financial Future series where you will learn about a variety of important money-related topics including smart strategies for wealth distribution in any phase of life. The program is cosponsored by the City of Newton Department of Senior Services. Dr. David Griswold, Senior Lecturer in the Department of Finance and Economics at Boston University Questrom School of Management, will moderate. The panelists will be:

- Denise McCarthy, Estate Planner: Wills, estate planning and who handles your investments if you can't?
- Elizabeth Page, Vice President and District Director, FINRA: How to choose a financial planner
- Paul Solman, Economics Correspondent, PBS Newshour: Mr. Solman will close the program with remarks regarding issues raised by the previous speakers.

Poems from All Over

Thursday, June 22, 7:00 pm, Gallery: Join Alan Feldman, winner of the 2016 Massachusetts Book Award for Poetry, as he reads from Immortality and the manuscript for his upcoming book, The Golden Coin (winner of this year's Four Lakes Prize). Against the backdrop of his wife's paintings which will be on view in the Gallery throughout June, Mr. Feldman will share poems based on travel to places such as Uruguay, France, Mexico, Turkey and Cypress. Not unlike his wife, artist Nan Hass Feldman, he's often inspired by things he learns as they travel. Feldman hopes that in an era of "America First" his poems from all over will help us increase our sense of who we really are on this planet, which, as his own life has demonstrated, is getting rather small and intimate.

Alan Feldman was professor and chair of the English Department at Framingham State University, and also taught the Advanced Creative Writing course at the Radcliffe Seminars for twenty-two years.

- The Library Trustees will meet June 28
- Blood Drives will be held June 14 & 28

Art Exhibits: June 2-29

Gallery: Paintings from Japan, Australia and Mexico by Nan Hass Feldman

Reception: Thursday, June 8, 7:00 pm

By: N. Hass Feldman

Nan Hass Feldman is blessed with an optimistic love of life, a very high energy level and a passion for painting. Her interiors and landscapes explore a love of heightened color, pattern and decoration, playful detail and clear yet intricate design. Believing that “more is more,” she delights in making her work overflow with luscious, color-laden content to project a joyful and complex enthusiasm for life, her everyday surroundings and experiences abroad.

Since 1999 Nan has led and taught painting workshops in the French Drôme Provençal and in Aix-en-Provence, as well as in Italy, Mexico and Greece. She teaches in three art museums in Massachusetts and runs the Artist Loft on the Oceania Cruise Line.

Main Hall: Narratives in Black, White and Red by Roxan Marie McKinnon

By: R. McKinnon

The prints in this show relate directly to stories - either moments of the artist's own lived story, or external narratives that she finds especially interesting. Having spent time as a mental health worker and community organizer for many years, Roxan McKinnon values stories because it is through stories that meaning is found in experience and, ultimately, where she believes that culture is born.

Ms. McKinnon works simply, primarily with linoleum blocks. She uses color sparsely because she likes the process of working in black and white - the stark consideration of positive and negative space. The use of the color red emerged during her studies in seminary, and is related to the theme of wisdom. Although many of these prints tell different stories and are from a variety of sources, they share the wisdom theme.

Ms. McKinnon began her public art career utilizing the arts as healing and/or community experiences with marginalized populations. She has a BA in Literature, Creative Writing and Art from Lesley University, and a Masters of Theological Studies from Andover Newton Theological School.

Teen Gallery: A Snapshot of Newton South Arts

By: A. Xiao

This collection of student work from Newton South High School is bound by the common thread of self-portraits, both through non-traditional and traditional means. The library wishes to extend its gratitude to Eric Blomster of Abraxis Framing Co. in Newton, who generously provided the frames cost-free. On view through fall 2017.

Displays on View June 2-29

Atrium Case One: Learn about the You and Your Financial Future series and the upcoming June 6 program (Info. p. 1).

Atrium Case Two: Learn about the life and legacy of Rebecca Pomroy (1817 – 1884). At the age of 44, Boston-born Pomroy reported to Washington to begin duties as a volunteer nurse to Union soldiers, and later went on to nurse the wife and son of President Lincoln. After the Civil War, Pomroy settled in Newton and was instrumental in establishing and operating a home for orphan and destitute girls. Her legacy continues today through the work of the Rebecca Pomroy Foundation which provides financial support to Newton non-profit organizations.

Main Hall: Enjoy a display of colorful jewelry made in the ancient enamel technique of cloisonné. Building up fused layers of enamel (ground glass with metal oxides) in a small kiln produces images of variety and effect – landscapes with luminous skies, still lifes with shades and transparencies, floral designs with brilliance and contrast. Set in silver and gold, these pieces are sometimes enhanced with handmade chains and semiprecious gems. Visit: tonistrassler.com.

Greening Our Community Series: Newton Goes Solar!

Mayor Warren's Summer
Reading Kickoff,
Wednesday, June 21,
5:30 pm, City Hall War
Memorial Auditorium:
Please join us to help

Mayor Warren kick off the 2017 summer reading program, Build a Better World! We'll have information on the summer reading program, snacks, a do it yourself craft and the One-Man Circus in-a-Suitcase. From Kevin O'Keefe's suitcase an entire circus emerges: tent, band, lights, the boisterous ringmaster Steve Fitzpatrick, the officious Mervin Merkle, the incredible Bumbilini Family, the Magician to the Stars Clyde Zerbini and Keefer—an innocent trying to run away and join the circus. However, the most important performers emerge from the audience. Each performance becomes a dialogue between the characters and the audience in a light-hearted collaboration.

Chessmates, Monday, June 26,
6:30 pm, Room B: Have fun playing chess with general instruction and open play. All levels welcome. Chess sets, puzzles and strategy will all be provided. For ages 6-9.

Seeing the Unseen

Tuesday, June 13, 7:00 pm: Please bring a non-perishable food item for the Newton Food Pantry to this program at which you will be taken on unusual journey with mentalist Preston Heller. Each audience member at this family-friendly demonstration will have a unique, personal experience with the unseen including:

- Thought implantation
- Influence
- The revealing of information known only to the spectator
- Predictions
- The reading of body language and voice patterns
- Psychometry and more

A longtime New Hampshire resident and retired businessman, Preston Heller dedicates his time to helping the less fortunate. For the past two years he has focused on fighting hunger by collecting non-perishable food at his free mentalism show at libraries throughout New Hampshire and Massachusetts. (Appropriate for ages 12 and up.)
